Rita, Aly Khan's Baby 5 1/2 Pound Girl 'Yasmine'

By ROBERT MUSEL
LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Dec. 28. — (UPI) — Movie actress Rita Hayworth gave premature but normal birth today to a 5 1/2-pound princess.
Aly Khan, husband of the 34-year-old Rita, said she "had a very tough time" during a six-hour confinement in a hospital clinic. The baby will be named Princess Yasmine, the Arabic spelling of Jasmine.
He said the birth, coming exactly seven months and one day after they were married last May 27, was seven weeks premature.
"I told you," he said to a reporter, "that premature babies run in my family."
Doctors had feared they would have to deliver the child by a cesarean operation, but at 11:45 a.m. they announced it was a natural birth. They said both mother and child were doing well.
Aly said he spent a miserable time pacing the corridors before the doctor came out, and told him "it's a girl".
He said he then went in and saw his baby.

Tax Cuts To Favor Oil Shares

Income Tax Credits, Depreciation Losses To Be Recognized
OTTAWA, Dec. 28. — (CP) — Canadian industries are given some tax relief in new regulations published today.
In effect, the change means that an industry which invests in a plant, it would pay tax on profits from the plant but not on the money paid into it to build it.
Although the announcement didn't say so, the step is believed to be intended to encourage building and upkeep of plants. The regulations were outlined in a special issue of the Canada Gazette.

INCREASE DEDUCTIONS
The relief is accomplished by allowing a company to deduct increased amounts to depreciation, on which no income tax is charged. W. T. Smith, deputy minister of revenue, explaining the regulations to a press conference, said that previously the minister of national revenue had discretionary powers to fix the rates of depreciation.

Two Resign As Protest

Oil drilling anywhere in city limits, subject to provincial regulations, has been approved by the Town Planning Commission.
But the decision precipitated a split in the commission resulting in resignations of Chairman W. T. Aiken and James T. J. Collinson.
Both men said they are convinced no useful purpose is going to be served by the commission, in the light of recommendations made by Professors John Bland and Harold Spence-Sales in their town planning survey.
Tonight's city council meeting will consider the commission's report on oil drilling, and both resignations.

City Paving Program Will Be Largest

Edmonton's 1950 street paving program will be the largest in northern Canada.
City council will be asked tonight to approve calling tenders in January for work totaling $1,333,000.
When that call, City Engineer J. D. A. Macdonald will consider undertaking additional work to a total of $1,333,000, exclusive of paving to be done on High Level bridge approaches.
2. CARRAVOGERS
proposed, including arterial road paving, bus route extensions, and "much-needed" paving in the whole-sale districts. Two items will be carried over from 1949.
Crown Paving Co. will complete a $101,000 job of in-surface concrete paving on residential streets, and a two-inch asphalt surface will be laid on 81 avenue from 111 to 112 streets at a cost of $2,281.
On such items as paving of street railway tracks allowance on R. V. and P. tracks and 165 and 169 streets, and on 105 street from Rossdale road to 90 avenue, work must be started as early as the spring as possible, so that they will be ready for use before work starts on High Level bridge alterations.
All paving included in the $1,333,000 will be standard concrete paving with an asphalt surface, says Mr. Macdonald. Asphalt paving on gravel base for residential districts will be considered after the city sees how much outside help will be required to complete the standard paving work.

"In order, however, to correct this, the report recommends that the present town planning commission be abolished and that a new committee consisting of three civic officials be appointed in its place, and then recommend that another committee be appointed to it, pre-empt, interpret for city council the opinion among the citizens."

Four Die In North Epidemic

Death toll in a diphtheria outbreak among Indians in the Fort St. John district has risen to four, it was learned today from officials at the Dr. Charles Cammell hospital in Edmonton.

Word that diphtheria had taken another victim was telephoned to the Cammell Indian hospital by Dr. George M. Carmack of Fort St. John who returned by plane from the stricken Halfway River district 75 miles west of Fort St. John.

UNDER CONTROL
 Dr. Carmack reported that despite the additional death the situation is well under control and nine other persons suffering from the disease are on way to recovery.

One week ago a quantity of antitoxin was parachuted to the stricken settlement by an RCAF plane from Northwest Air Command in Edmonton.

Dr. Carmack directed the dropping of the antitoxin aboard the air force plane. Later an Indian health services nurse was rushed to the area by car.

Dr. Carmack left by plane for Halfway River Christmas Day, returning to Fort St. John last night.

LIGHT JOB HEAVY TASK

Big pre-New Year job for the caretaking staff of the legislative building today was checking and cleaning of ceiling lights in the legislative chamber.

Working from a 40-foot scaffold, the workmen examined all of the 500 light bulbs, replacing those damaged or burned out.

Second Try Is Fateful

Frank Letour, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering premises of J. W. Mould and Son, 1048-102 avenue on Dec. 24, was remanded to Jan. 4.

Det. Sgt. James Peterson told court accused had been employed as a watchman at a tool shed opposite the Mould premises.

Letour was asked into the building to have some Christmas cheer. After the building had been locked the accused returned and broke a glass in the door, gaining entrance by twisting the lock tumbler, said Det. Sgt. Peterson.

The accused pleaded that all he was looking for was "another drink."

Escapes Fire, Dies In Cold

Escaping a fire that consumed her isolated log shack, Melane Baunline, of the South Valleyview district, died of exposure en route to a neighbor's house.

Police believe the half-breed woman's log shack, in which she lived alone, was destroyed Dec. 16. Her body was found Dec. 24 some distance away.

In written note for the coroner, the music is usually written as an octave down because of the instrument's high pitch.

HEAVY PENALTY

Deer Meat Meal Costs Mere $500

Illegal hunting and serving big game cost seven persons a total of $850 in prosecutions recently by the provincial lands and forests department.

Arthur Johnson, Caroline Gordon Lee, Sarahann, and Bud Crossman, Caroline were each fined $100 for serving deer meat to their employees in lumber camps in the Rocky Mountain House district.

Two camp employees, Harold Thomas and Jack Black, were each fined $25 for shooting the deer served at the camp.

Two farmers of Alhambra, James Dickson and Norman Van Holton, paid $75 each for illegal possession of big game. The men killed a deer while at a coyote hunt.

Police Searching For Armed Bandit

Garage Owner Finds Two Ransacking Shop

An armed bandit with a quiet accomplice last night threatened to shoot a city garageman who stumbled on them trying to rob the Backus Garage at 10333 96 street.

Police have thrown out a city-wide net for the pair who broke into the garage at about 11:30 p.m. yesterday.

Owner of the garage, Frank Dickenson, who lives with his family in a suite over his building, discovered the burglars.

"I found two men, one with a light in one hand and a gun in the other," Dickenson said.

Started, the bandit turned back and said, "What more of it?" Mr. Dickenson said.

"I didn't offer any arguments," said Mr. Dickenson.

After this the two men left the building through the front door.

Police are working on theory that the pair were responsible for the recent break-in at the Grange Crush Bottling plant.

Spirits Were Bought Early

Edmontonians who buy the liquid kind of Christmas spirit did not hold shopping early this year.

Chairman of the Alberta Liquor Control Board, A. J. Mason, said business was steady at the three Edmonton liquor stores during the entire week preceding Christmas.

The Christmas Eve was not as busy as anticipated.

The board employed 50 extra staff members during the holiday season. New west end liquor store was also opened in time for the Christmas rush.

New year sales are generally about 60 per cent of those at Christmas.

Struck by a car which police said was driven by Barney Tych, 11847-83 street, John Mark Cooper, 11522-83 street, last night, was taken to Royal Alexandra hospital where he was treated for bruises to the knees and face.

Miss M. Healey, a passenger in the car of John Reiter of Red Deer, suffered minor cuts on face and elbow when Reiter's car struck the back of a cinder truck.

Shriners Plan Calgary Jaunt

Meeting of the Edmonton Shrine Club will be held at the Edmonton Club on Jan. 5, at 8:30 p.m.

The Calgary ceremonial will be held on Jan. 26 and 27, and Noble Clayton Adams and Noble Brown are arranging for Edmonton's delegation.

PERMITS BOOSTED
 Edmonton building permits today soared past an all-time high of $40,000,000.

Brothers Celebrate
 Four Edmonton brothers, who are also doctors, Harold, Delbert, Lee and Gordon Russell, will celebrate this New Year.

On January 1 their father, Jack Russell, Calgary, will retire from the baggage department of the C.P.R. after 37 years service.

Besides his four sons, Mr. Russell has four daughters, Norma, Bertha, Evelyn and Beverly.

Mr. Russell said he would work in two hobbies, woodworking and horsemanship.

His father, born in Riverside, Utah, started with the C.P.R. as a telegrapher in 1913 and his service has included selection on the crew of the Royal Train in 1938.

Mayor Praises Car Drivers
 Car drivers and pedestrians were commended today by Mayor Sid Farnum for their carefulness over the Christmas holidays.

"I'd like to repeat my request for caution over the New Year's holiday," he said. "I hope the same care will continue to be exercised not only then but during 1950. Let's have an accident-free holiday season. Two or three deaths last year was too many."

Court was told that between Dec. 1 and Dec. 8 there had obtained more than 1000 by means of four vehicles charges, issued in two downtown department stores.

Ghost of Christmas Past

Christmas comes but once a year, and now it's past. I'd like to cheer, Cause Junior didn't want his toys, Except the ones that made a noise, The Miasa got a coffee pot, That at the ceiling Java shot, I got cigars that I can't smoke, And now it's over I'm dead broke.

I'll bet you could compose perle poetry too if you had been at our house Christmas morning. Here's just some of the things that happened: My youngster never looked twice at his nice shiny new mechanical train ($7.26 with the caboose). He dragged out all the toys he got last Christmas that haven't any wheels and played with 'em all morning. Only thing that scored was the board he could hammer pegs through with a big mallet, a gift from a slightly morose parent, and two whistles that made a "wonderful" accompaniment to Silent Night, Holy Night. The new coffee pot, that works perfectly if you can spend the whole day reading the directions, blew up and ruined 50 cigarettes, a gift from merchant prince Harry Cohen. The Miasa started stewing because she got four Christmas cards from people she forgot to send Christmas cards to. She slapped my face real hard when I told her I dreamed that Santa put Elegant Elsie in my stocking.

About This and That

An orchid to Edmonton householders for being extra careful at Christmas time. Firemen had only three minor fires and not one blaze endangered life and limb. Another orchid to the big majority of Edmonton car drivers. No serious car accidents here over the holiday week-end makes wonderful reading in comparison to the heavy toll of lives taken in other parts of Canada and in the United States. Let's get the record clean from now on.

Elegant Elsie, my favorite waitress, received so many lovely presents for Christmas she's certain there must be more than one Santa Claus.

Bulletin staff photographer Danny Scott has been walking for the past three weeks. Reason: He can't find a garagemon who will doctor his car, a 1927 model in rattling good shape. Mechanics all look out the window and mutter something about being too busy when Danny tells them his car was brand new in 1927.

The plight of Danny intrigued me, so I asked Bill, a veteran Edmonton garagemon about it. Bill says he's honest mechanic who won'tinker with an ancient gas buggy because it's simply impossible to satisfy the customer. Bill says if you fix the thing that seems to be wrong a dozen other things go haywire right away. He thinks there ought to be strict regulations that will take ancient jalopies out of circulation for good. He says the highways would be a whole lot safer if the government inspected all cars at intervals and paid compensation to owners of cars that should be junked.

Elegant Elsie can't understand why Santa Claus never brought a necktie because nearly every man she saw on Jasper Avenue the day after Christmas had a brand new tie.

Just Finishing Up

Christmas holidays mean little to a busy fellow like Reg Lister, superintendent of University residences. Reg "fathers" students in three variety residences seven months of the year and is also away from home during school sessions. Now, in Christmas holidays, he looks after members of Tuxis boys' parliament putting up in Athabasca Hall.

I nearly forgot to thank Francis Winspear for the fine box of smokes he sent me for Christmas. I'd also like to tell Danny Lynk how I've still got the hat he gave me three weeks ago. I think it's a bit erroneous.

Ex-chief constable Anthony G. Shute gave me a familiar seasonal hello the other day on Jasper Avenue. The former chief is keeping happy and busy with boxing and wrestling commission work and the odd flyer at real estate.

Another ex-policeman, Jim Myles, is now doing a thriving business in real estate. Wonder what attracts the ex-politician to the real estate game? Maybe it's because they covered so much of it when they were on the beat. Has anyone heard from Pat Asby?

Indian Births Up But So Are Deaths

Canada's Indians and Eskimos are far from a dying race, according to the National Health Department, which, in its annual report notes there are some 130,000 Indians and 10,000 Eskimos in this country.

They had a birth rate averaging between 40 and 45 per 1,000, compared with the rate of 28 per 1,000 for the white population.

The death rate was between 17 and 20 per 1,000, compared with 9.5 for the white population. The native population has been falling up to the twenties, but the trend has since been reversed, the department said. It noted that a proper native health service was set up in 1927, but added that it was difficult to tell whether this had led to the upswing of the Indians and Eskimos.

The department noted that tuberculosis was still a deadly killer but that it was becoming less frequent. However, it was still 30 times more lethal than to the white man.

Extensive program of intestinal-feeding clinics was started in 1934. Children attending Indian schools were X-rayed at least once a year.

Feature of the year was the devastating epidemic of poliomyelitis that broke out on the west coast of Hudson Bay, the health department said. The outbreak was being thoroughly investigated by the department and officials hoped a complete case history could be compiled.

Guests Roused By Acrid Smoke
Smoldering insulation in an electric motor at the site of Fisher and Burke Surgical Supplies, opposite the Macdonald hotel, at noon Tuesday brought four riders from St. Firehall.

The acid fumes seeped through the Macdonald hotel next door and roused guests. Caused by a short circuit, damage was confined to the motor.

Tuxis Parliament Debates Commercialized Sundays

By Art Etter
Bulletin Staff Writer

It lacked a bit of the flashy pomp and circumstance of a regular opening. Two red-coated Mounties and an army lieutenant were there, but society's upper crust didn't justify each other politely to get a front seat in the Speaker's gallery.

But Alberta Tuxis parliamentarians who last night opened the 50th consecutive boys' parliament at the Legislative Building more than made up for that with their sincerity and simplicity.

Theme of the week-long session, "Tuxis Challenge," made elders swear that perhaps the sick world might improve by taking a leaf or two from this parliament's book.

Two three speech proposals—one to abolish capital punishment, and the other to not restrict commercialized Sunday activities—reflected the young men's concern for a society both Christian and democratic.

After Lieut. Governor Dr. W. H. Smith had read the three speech proposals, Premier Tom Jackman explained that he had injected the two proposals into it because of his belief in Christianity and democracy.

"I feel society has outgrown capital punishment—a product of a barbaric age," he said. "A Christian society should not continue to carry out capital punishment, because courts are not infallible. No man here has been convicted and put to death."

"God gives men life, and man should not take it away," he said. "Let's give men life."

On the second proposal, Premier Jackman said that, while as Christians Tuxis parliamentarians may be definitely opposed to commercialization of Sunday, a democratic society has no right to restrict Sunday activities of others.

Rev. Stuart Triller, chairman of Boys' Work Board of Alberta, congratulated the boys from all parts of Alberta on the fact that the Tuxis parliament has not missed a year in its three decades. It provides an ideal place for discussion of problems of boys from 16 to 21 years of age, he said.

"Many past parliamentarians have been leaders in our provincial and national life, and most of them have taken a prominent part in our public affairs."

Deputy Premier Glen McKenise, after expressing thanks to E. "Cam" Cameron, executive secretary of the Boys' Work Board, for his work with the parliament, abruptly split with the premier over the three speech proposals.

"I'm in government or opposition," he maintained.

Harold Ashley, leader, pledged the opposition to support the government as long as it presents legislation suitable to the Tuxis movement.

And then he lambasted the premier's Sunday proposal.

"It's only adding a bigger door for Christianity to walk through," he said. "Those who live by the sword shall die by the sword. The ones who are had are bound to stay bad."

And so the debate raged, with several government and opposition members jumping in.

Horsey was there, too, and humor.

CITES CAMP NEEDS
Clarence Field, minister of intellectual affairs, evidently found Edmonton's camp a distinct change from "tropical" Lethbridge.

"I'd like to see next year's parliament come to Lethbridge and get it sewed out," he said.

But Tuxis, minister of social affairs, and an Edmontonian, used the pressing need for help if Alberta Tuxis boys are to be challenged.

Baseball Park Lease Set for 5 Years

SENATOR IN WEST Ducey Batting Tonight For Council Approval

Mr. Baseball is now on first base with a new five-year lease on Renfrew Park—with city commissioners' consent. Tonight he'll try to make home base on city council's diamond.

Commissioners have agreed that John Ducey be given a five-year lease on the ball park after the present expires at the end of the 1954 playing season, with the option of a further five-year renewal.

The terms would be $1 per year rental, but the baseball league would carry out a program of improvement, costing between $30,000 and $50,000, which would be the city's property.

Present rental is eight percent of revenue, which commissioners say is equal to suggested cost of improvements.

There would be a new fence around the grounds, and further seating accommodations.

With commissioners' recommendation such a lease, all that Mr. Ducey needs now is city council's approval at tonight's meeting.

Implement Men Drop Exhibition

Farm implement dealers of Manitoba and Western Ontario will skip a machinery exhibition in 1950.

Instead, the executive board announced, the association will hold a business convention during the year.

The reason given by the board for cancelling the exhibition was that the feature had been a distraction from the main object, to hold a business meeting.

Back In Town

D. A. Kirkland, manager of Henry Birks and Sons Western Ltd., is in Edmonton after five years' absence, as a Christmas holiday visitor from Victoria.

BIG HARRY SAILING

Harry Mudd Hadfield—the fellow they call Big Harry around the steel works at Middleburgh, England, because of his rousing songs and strength—will be sailing soon for Beverly, Alta.

Big Harry and his wife and their daughter of 18 are going to join another daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. "Reddy" Jones.

"I'll be fine to get back to non-plant life," said Mrs. Hadfield to an English reporter as she went about packing for the Jan. 19 sailing on the Manchester City.

And the steel workers will miss Big Harry.

They say he is the strongest steelman on the River Tees. He is also the most cheerful.

He has a summer camp. He estimated total cost at $12,000—"which is more than we have or can hope to get."

"We can't help but we won't hinder," said he. "It's the attitude of our elders," he said.

From 8 a.m. to late each night every day this week, the boys will enjoy devotion, leadership training, clagues, community meetings and house sittings in an attempt to cover the social ground.

TAWASI CLUB Young Animals Walk Sooner Than Humans

Why can baby animals walk so much sooner than baby humans? It is because they are born with a good deal of instinct. A baby human, on the other hand, is born with a good deal of instinct, but it takes a long time to develop. # Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily who was living in the snow-block igloo house of Mr. Whitehead, the polar bear, looked out of a window that was made from a sheet of ice, as clear as glass. "My doll is broken! Where's Uncle Wiggily? I want him to tell me Christmas day," cried Bunty. "What all is the matter of you all?" asked Mr. Whitehead, honey lamb child. "I'm broken, honey lamb child," cried Bunty. "She's broken. She won't talk any more and she won't cry no more." "Well, Bunty, what's the matter?" asked Mr. Whitehead. "I don't know what's the matter, but she won't talk any more and she won't cry no more." "I'll fix her up for you," said Mr. Whitehead. "I'll fix her up for you," said Mr. Whitehead. "I'll fix her up for you," said Mr. Whitehead.

By Don Flach
Most expensive quarter-section in the Redwater field has picked up the top of the D3 at the highest level in the northwest section of the field. Well is the B.A. lease #4. Limited No. 8-15 being drilled in the north-west subdivision of the Crown Reserve parcel which brought $918,662.67 in a sale of rights last October.

The well picked up the top of the D3 at 3178 feet, 152 feet above the water level. Top of the zone was tight with porous zone appearing at 3188 feet. Drilling was halted at 3191 feet and casing run to 3191 feet from this depth. It is now standing zone.
